About the Family Ties List

Who's included in the list

- major league players in 2014 who have a relative currently or formerly in professional baseball, or was drafted by an MLB organization
- managers and coaches on 2014 MLB teams who have a relative currently or formerly in professional baseball, or was drafted by an MLB organization
- minor league players in 2014 with a relative currently or formerly in professional baseball, or was drafted by an MLB organization. (Note: Admittedly, this part of the list is not exhaustive.)
- The list was prepared after the completion of the 2014 regular season, so that full-season rosters were considered.

Who's not included in the list

- Former major league players, managers, and coaches whose baseball relatives are not currently active in professional baseball
- Current professional players, managers and coaches whose relatives have only played college baseball
- Major league scouts, owners, executives, umpires, and broadcasters, unless they are a relative of a 2014 player.

Other notes about the content of the list

- Current major leaguers in 2014 are in green color font
- Former major leaguers prior to the 2014 season are in red color font
- Relative's Last Org and Relative's Last Year columns refer to playing careers only. They may indicate a minor league or an independent league season, if in fact the player finished his career at that level.
- In some cases, a Relative was not a player, in which case the role (executive, scout, broadcaster, etc.) is shown in the Relative's Last Year column
- When an asterisk appears with Relative's Last Year, it indicates the MLB draft year of the player who did not actually sign with the organization in 2014
- When an asterisk appears with the 2014 Major League Appearance indicator, it denotes the player made his major league debut in 2014.
- Relationship types include brothers, fathers, sons, grandfathers, grandsons, uncles, nephews, cousins, brothers-in-law, and fathers-in-law.

Digesting the 2014 Family Ties Data

This version of the 2014 Family Ties List contains 659 major league and minor league players who have a relative in professional baseball. There are 86 major league managers and coaches.

These 745 players, managers and coaches have a total of 1,024 family relationships with players, managers, coaches, scouts, executives, and broadcasters from the major league teams and their affiliated minor league teams, independent leagues, and the Mexican League. Obviously, some of the players, managers, and coaches have multiple family relationships.

PLAYERS

Of the 659 players in 2014, 227 had major league experience and 432 had only minor league experience.

The 227 major leaguers had 84 relatives (including 31 current and former major leaguers) who played in 2014, while 226 of their relatives (including 97 major leaguers) played prior to 2014.

The 432 minor leaguers had 164 relatives (including 71 current and former major leaguers) who played in 2014, while 364 of their relatives (including 213 current and former major leaguers) played prior to 2014.

MANAGERS/COACHES

The 86 major league managers and coaches had a total of 151 family relationships in professional baseball. 49 of their relatives were current or former major leaguer players. 23 of their relatives, including 8 current major leaguers, were active in 2014.

The Milwaukee Brewers had a manager and six coaches who represented 29 family relationships in professional baseball.

2014 MLB DRAFT

TEAMS

The average number of player relatives (major league and minor league) for the 30 major league organizations is 20. The Los Angeles Dodgers (32) and Milwaukee Brewers (30) were the organizations with the most relatives. The San Francisco Giants and Oakland A's had the least with 12.

The Los Angeles Dodgers had the most 2014 major league roster players (12) with a relative in professional baseball. The Atlanta Braves, New York Mets, Kansas City Royals and New York Yankees had 11. The Houston Astros, Chicago White Sox, and San Francisco Giants had the fewest (3).

Errors and Omissions

While it is the intent to make this list comprehensive, there are most assuredly some undiscovered player relationships.
